The Twenty-Third Psalm

*The Lord is my shepherd, I shall not want.
He maketh me to lie down in green pastures:
He leadeth me beside the still waters.
He restoreth my soul. He leadeth me in the paths of righteousness for His name's sake.
Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil: for Thou art with me; Thy rod and Thy staff they comfort me.
Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies: Thou anointest my head with oil:
my cup runneth over. Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life: and I will dwell in the house of the Lord forever.*

Ferne L. Morelock

Ferne Lorene Morelock, the daughter of James T. and Anna J. (Gonden) Liddell, was born April 3, 1919, near Treynor, Iowa, and passed away January 20, 2003, in Omaha, Nebraska.

Growing up in Shenandoah, Ferne received her education from the Shenandoah school system where she graduated from high school. On January 28, 1937, Ferne was united in marriage to Earl J. Morelock at Plattsmouth, Nebraska. To this union, two sons, Gene and Jerry were born. When Ferne and Earl were first married they lived and farmed north of Shenandoah for several years before moving to Shenandoah. While living in Shenandoah where they raised their sons, Ferne was associated with J.C. Pennneys, Central Surveys and for several years was the local Avon representative. They then moved to Denver, Colorado, where they managed apartment houses. In 1982, they moved to Omaha, Nebraska, where they lived the rest of their lives.

Ferne was known to be a wonderful cook, and an accomplished seamstress, even making garments like men's clothing and vestments. She enjoyed working with ceramics making many keepsake items. She was also a member of St. John's Episcopal Church in Shenandoah.

Preceding Ferne in death were her parents; husband; son, Gene Morelock; brothers, James, Orville, Elvin, and Dale Liddell; and sister, Mildred Phippen.

Survivors include her son, Jerry Morelock and his close friend, Deb Savine, of Omaha, two granddaughters, Jolin and Anna Morelock of Omaha; many nieces, nephews and friends.
