

Marjorie Marie Walter

Marjorie Marie Walter, daughter of Joseph C. and Delpha (Stitt) Clipston, was born on November 1, 1914, in Shenandoah, Iowa. She passed away on Monday, August 25, 2003, at the Lutheran Home in Omaha, Nebraska, following a lengthy illness. Her early life was spent in the Shenandoah, Farragut and Sidney areas. Marjorie attended school at Summit Country School south of Shenandoah. She was united in marriage to Herman W. Walter on August 22, 1938, in Maryville, Missouri, and they made their home in Farragut, Iowa. She cared for her mother until her death, and her father-in-law and mother-in-law until their deaths. She was a homemaker until 1960, when she moved to Omaha and opened a boarding home and cared for out-patients from area hospitals. She later cared for people that were generally mentally-challenged. Marjorie was a former member of the United Methodist Church in Farragut. She enjoyed growing flowers and plants.

Marjorie was preceded in death by her parents; her husband; six brothers, Floyd, Paul, John, Frank, Edward and Earl (Bob) Clipston; and three sisters, Ada Kralik, June Peterson and Stella Erhart. She is survived by her son, James H. Walter and his wife Kathy of Council Bluffs, Iowa; four grandchildren, Matthew Walter, Kim Walter, Kelly Walter and Jennifer Walter; five great-grandchildren; a brother, Elmer Clipston of Red Oak, Iowa; other relatives and many friends.
