

Sharon Lee Nichols, age 74, of Cherokee Village, Ark. formerly of Clarinda entered into peace on Thursday, June 5, 2014. Sharon Lee Williams was born on May 1, 1940 to Marie (Townsend) Williams and Leighton Williams of Shenandoah. She graduated from

Shenandoah High School in 1958, and on

Aug. 15, 1960 she married Dr. Charles Nichols of Clarinda.

They were blessed to celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary in 2010 with many family and friends in attendance. To their union three children were born – Jennifer, Charles and Timothy.

Sharon earned her M.S. degree and spent her career teaching in South Page until her retirement in 1995. She enjoyed cooking for her family and friends, golfing and traveling during the summer months. She was a very active member of the Cherokee Village United Methodist Church and enjoyed playing cards with her local Bridge club.

Sharon was preceded in death by her parents Marie and Leighton Williams.

Left to cherish her memory are her husband, Dr. Charles Nichols of Cherokee Village, Ark., daughter Jennifer Reed and husband Todd of New Market, son Chuck Nichols and wife Felicia of Ballwin, Mo., son Tim Nichols of Branson, Mo., and sister Sonia Alley of Wheat Ridge, Colo. Chugger and Sharon also have eight grandchildren: Michaela Biggart and husband Justin, USMC L.Cpl. Shane Reed and wife Krysta, Hannah Reed, Morgan Nichols, Colin Nichols, Ryan Nichols, Maison Nichols, Haedon Nichols and two great-grandchildren are on the way.
