*If you are ever going to love me,
Love me now, while I can know
The sweet and tender feelings,
Which from true affection flow.
Love me now, While I am living.
Do not wait until I'm gone,
And then have it chiseled in marble,
Sweet words on ice-cold stone.
If you wait until I am sleeping,
Never to awaken,
There will be death between us,
And I won't hear you then.
So, if you love me, even a little bit,
Let me know it while I am living,
So I can treasure it.*

Lois E. Ohnmacht

Lois Eugenia Ohnmacht, the daughter of Silas E. and Bertha E. (Laurence) Fisher, was born October 24, 1904, on a cold frosty morning near Humbolt, Nebraska, and passed away July 19, 2004, on a warm and humid morning in Clarinda, Iowa, at the age of 99.

The fourth of eighth children, Lois moved with her family to south of Peru, Nebraska, when she was one year old. There she attended rural school through the eighth grade. Lois graduated from the T.J. Majors High School in 1923 and later obtained an A.B. Degree from Peru State Teachers College. The following years she taught in Mason City, Wells, Silver Creek and near Nebraska City, Nebraska.

In December 1936, Lois was united in marriage to George John Ohnmacht and to this union, a son, Dennis was born. They lived four years on a farm near Peru before moving in 1940 near Northboro, Iowa, where George, his parents and brothers each bought farm land. They farmed and lived in the area near Northboro and Blanchard for the rest of their lives.

Lois was a member of the Northboro "Live Wire Club" and enjoyed attending the Blanchard United Methodist Church. She was known to be an excellent cook and would always have the table set and meal prepared when her family and guests arrived. Her family was always the most important part of her life and she looked forward to their visits. She felt fortunate to have lived a long life still remaining to live in her home on the farm.

Preceding Lois in death were her parents; husband, George in 1972; great grandson, Anthony Neil Ohnmacht; brothers, Alva, Laurence and Wendell Fisher; sisters, Lucille Harmon, Edna Warnke and Genevieve Michalek.

Survivors are son and daughter-in-law, Dennis and Leanna Ohnmacht of Blanchard, Iowa; grandchildren, Darin Ohnmacht and wife, Jennine, of College Springs, Iowa, and Angela Norris and husband, Todd, of St. Joseph, Missouri; brother, Harold Fisher of Coin, Iowa; four great grandchildren; nieces, nephews and friends.
