The Twenty-Third Psalm

*The Lord is my shepherd, I shall not want.
He maketh me to lie down in green pastures:
He leadeth me beside the still waters.
He restoreth my soul. He leadeth me in the paths of righteousness for His name's sake.
Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil: for Thou art with me; Thy rod and Thy staff they comfort me.
Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies: Thou anointest my head with oil:
my cup runneth over. Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life: and I will dwell in the house of the Lord forever.*

Clarence C. Harms

Clarence Claus "Dutch" Harms, the son of John Ralph and Kate (Arends) Harms, was born March 13, 1912, in Little Rock, Iowa and passed away December 29, 2001, at his home in Farragut, Iowa.

Dutch grew up in the Little Rock and Shenandoah, Iowa areas and received his education in the Shenandoah School System. He started working when he was nine years old at Mt. Arbor Nursery and continued there for thirty-two years. He then worked for the Farragut Community School part time for about twenty years. He was united in marriage to Isabelle Ragar on August 22, 1936, at Glenwood, Iowa and to this union, three children, Roger, Larry and Debbie were born.

Dutch was a member of the United Methodist Church in Farragut. He liked making gifts out of wood, hunting, fishing, gardening, growing flowers and just being outdoors. He especially liked being with his family and encouraged them to get a higher education. Dutch was a man of great courage and had a very caring nature. His family always came first and he never wanted to inconvenience anyone. He was a good listener to people and was willing to share his experiences, hoping they would help others.

Preceding Dutch in death were his parents, John and Kate Harms; sons, Roger and Larry Harms; brothers, Ralph, Fred, Okko, and Elmer Harms and sister, Helen Lang.

Survivors include his wife, Isabelle Harms, of Farragut; daughter, Debbie Whipple and husband, Gary, of Sidney, Iowa; daughter-in-laws, Juanita Harms of Seattle, WA and Maria Harms of Reston, VA; six grandchildren, Jeff Harms and wife, Kim, Scott Harms and wife, Mimi, Amy Wade and husband, Mike, Steven Harms, Sarah Rivera and husband, Scott, and Clayton Whipple; four great grandchildren; three sisters, Anna Maher of Shenandoah, Doris Odem of California, and Lenora Brown of Grand Island, NE; sister-in-law, Hazel Witworth, of Clinton, MO plus other relatives and many friends.
