

Obituary

Nelson Williams, son of John Andrew and Effie Hagey Williams, was born on May 24, 1912, in Nodaway County, Missouri and passed away on February 17, 2001, at the Tabor Manor in Tabor, Iowa. He was 88 years of age. He was raised on a farm near Burlington Junction, Missouri, and attended schools in that area. On March 20, 1936, he was united in marriage to Florence Tritsch by the Rev. James Pearson, a KFNF minister in Shenandoah. They lived in Shenandoah for a few years and then moved to Glenwood for several years. They moved to Sidney for a short time, also Hamburg, and then moved back to Glenwood. He was employed with Murphy Chevy in Glenwood and later started his own auto service, Nelson Auto Service. Nelson enjoyed hunting and trap shooting.

Nelson was preceded in death by his parents, his wife Florence, two sisters, Jane Williams and Edna Williams, and three brothers, Floyd, Alvin and John Williams. He is survived by a sister, Alice Williams, brothers, Russell Williams, Jesse Williams, and Virgil Williams, all of Shenandoah, a brother, Leo of Laramie, Wyoming, two sisters-in-laws, Olga Lawless of Sidney, Iowa, and Ruby Tritsch of Syracuse, Nebraska, other relatives and friends.

Following the services at the cemetery, everyone is cordially invited to the home of Alice Williams, 115 South Avenue, for a time of refreshments and fellowship with the family.
